

"I've never seen anything like this before. I can't figure out if it's art or science."

Ever watch the wandering course of a raindrop as it runs down a windowpane? At Meanderings, water trickling down a tilted pane of glass snakes back and forth, taking the same kind of meandering path as a mountain stream.

Experience the mesmerizing power of the pounding surf and the falling rain at Water Waves. This series of video monitors, nestled in a darkened cove, envelops you in an environment of sight and sound.

pecific topic, or take a wandering path, sampling many different